

ISUOG CME Task Force Terms of reference

Secretariat Liaison: LMS and Digital Learning Manager

Purpose

The CME Task Force supports ISUOG's offer of comprehensive intermediate and advanced level education, by overseeing the member benefit called 'CME Activities' made available on ISUOG's online learning area called the ISUOG Academy. The Task Force monitors the quality of content, creates new CME activity content, retires outdated content and suggests improvements to the presentation of these activities. The Task Force also offers advice and expertise that will support the promotion of this content.

CME Task Force critical success factors

- To ensure the highest level of competency amongst all who are involved in women's imaging.
- To increase influence and reach.

CME Task Force strategic goals

1. Develop online presence toward being the primary online resource for practitioners in the field.
2. Provide continuous medical education to improve clinical care.
3. Deliver resources and services through all available media, e.g. face-to-face, online and social media.
4. To improve the educational offering on the ISUOG academy and become the primary resource for practitioners in the field.
5. To demonstrate sustainability and the impact of learning.

Process / Framework for delivery

1. Update regularly continuous education offer to ISUOG members.
2. Engage with members on social media and ISUOG website.
3. Identify the best lectures from ISUOG congresses and courses for the development of new CME activities and create new CME content based on existing practice guidelines and articles according to EACCME criteria.
