

2nd Edition

This program was developed by the Course Directors: Prof. Katia Bilardo (The Netherlands) and Prof. Simon Meagher (Australia)

Learning objectives:

- Apply fetal cardiac imaging techniques to diagnose congenital heart defects, including septal defects, outflow tract anomalies, and valve abnormalities.
- Interpret genetic findings relevant to cardiac and brain anomalies, and understand their clinical and management implications.
- Recognise major fetal heart defects (e.g., Tetralogy of Fallot, TGA, HLHS/HRHS, coarctation) and discuss their pathophysiology, imaging features, and outcomes.
- Identify key brain anomalies such as ventriculomegaly, cerebellar malformations, corpus callosum agenesis, and absent CSP.
- Understand the diagnostic process and management for microcephaly, intracranial haemorrhage, and evolving brain malformations.
- Communicate complex findings effectively with families, including prognosis, genetic counselling, and postnatal implications.
