

Predicting and preventing complications in pregnancy
Sunday 29 August 2021

Livestream course program

Learning objectives:

- To learn about what tools we have for the prediction of a series of pregnancy complications.
- To learn about what measures we have for the prevention of a series of pregnancy complications.
- To learn about the unmet needs for the prediction and prevention of pregnancy complications.

Target audience: Obstetricians, Gynecologists, midwives, MFM, and all ultrasound providers

Time (timezone BST)	Mins	Item	Speaker – Prefix, full name
12:00	5	Welcome and introduction: the unmet needs and challenges	Liona Poon (Hong Kong)
Screening
12:05	10	Can we predict and prevent fetal growth restriction?	Christoph Lees (UK)
12:15	10	Can we predict and prevent stillbirth?	Gerry Visser (the Netherlands)
12:25	10	Can we predict and prevent spontaneous preterm birth?	Roberto Romero (US)
12:35	15	Panel discussion	All speakers
12:50	5	Short break including a video from Canon
12:55	10	Can we predict and prevent pre-eclampsia?	Liona Poon (Hong Kong)
13:05	10	Can we predict and prevent obstetric cholestasis?	Catherine Williamson (UK)
13:15	10	What does it mean to be screened positive for pregnancy complications?	Jane Fisher (UK)
13:25	30	Panel discussion	All speakers
13:55	5	“Thank you”, close and what to expect at the course	Liona Poon (Hong Kong)

Please note that this is a provisional schedule subject to change.