

ISUOG Basic Training: Fetal Anomalies

Prof. Vlădăreanu Radu (Romania) President: RSUOG

Professor Vlădăreanu Radu is the chair of the Obstetrics and Gynecology Department of "Carol Davila" Medical University and the head of the Obstetrics and Gynecology Clinic from ELIAS University Emergency Hospital, Bucharest. He is the President of the Romanian Society of Ultrasound in Obstetrics and Gynecology, Romanian Society for HPV and of the Romanian Association for Human Reproduction. He is also the vice-president of the South-East European Society for Endometriosis and Infertility. A director of Ian Donald Inter-University School of Ultrasonography in Obstetrics and Gynecology, Romania, he has been actively involved in the organization of numerous national and international scientific manifestations.

Country: Romania

Fields: obstetrics, gynecology, ultrasound, materno-fetal medicine

Specialties: prenatal screening, ultrasound of fetal anomalies, congenital anomalies of the central nervous system, infertility treatment, endometriosis, HPV infection, laparoscopy.

Prof Mărginean Claudiu (Romania)

Mărginean Claudiu is a professor of obstetrics and gynecology at University of Medicine and Pharmacy of Tîrgu Mureş, Romania and Head of the Obstetrics and Gynecology Department from Mureş County Hospital since 2017. He one of the Vice-Presidents of the Romanian Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology, member of the Romanian Association of Perinatal Medicine, of the International Society of Ultrasonography in Obstetrics and Gynecology and of the Romanian Society of Minimal Invasive Surgery in Gynecology.

Country: Romania

Fields: obstetrics, gynecology, materno-fetal medicine

Specialties: fetal echocardiography, ultrasound screening for anomalies, ultrasound Doppler in obstetrics and gynecology, gynecologic laparoscopy, hysteroscopy, colposcopy.

Titia Cohen-Overbeek (Netherlands)

Titia Cohen-Overbeek is a physician in fetal medicine. She worked under the supervision of Professor Campbell at Kings College Hospital for six years before moving back to the Netherlands where she collaborated with Professor Juriy Wladimiroff at the Erasmus Medical Center in Rotterdam. She has published more than 60 scientific papers on subjects including Doppler ultrasound and pitfalls in detection of congenital anomalies. Following the introduction of the 20 week anomaly scan in the Netherlands in 2007 she established an ultrasound training program for obstetricians to become familiar with this investigation. For ISUOG she has participated in the outreach team to Somaliland in 2012 and is member of the Outreach committee and the Basic Training Task Force.

Trish Chudleigh (UK)

Trish Chudleigh is a sonographer who has been involved in the teaching and practice of obstetric ultrasound since the mid-1970s, starting her scanning career with Stuart Campbell at King's College Hospital, London. She has been actively involved with the Fetal Anomaly Screening Programme for many years, in the establishment of the UK national guidelines, and more recently, in the ongoing rolling out of the national cardiac training programme. She is the co-author of one of the standard obstetric ultrasound textbooks in the UK, the 4th edition of which is recently out. She is the lead sonographer at the Rosie Hospital, Cambridge, and a Senior Lecturer at the University of Hertfordshire.

Prof. Liana Ples (Romania)

Prof. Liana Ples PhD, MD, MPH is teaching at "Carol Davila" University of Medicine and Pharmacy Bucharest since 1991. She is working in the Bucur Obstetrics and Gynecology Department as a professor and senior physician. She has a Master Degree in Prenatal Diagnosis and Fetal Medicine at Paris Descartes University since 2014. She is Vice-President of the Romanian Perinatal Association and in the Board of The Romanian Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology. She authored and co-authored papers on ultrasound, fetal medicine and books and chapters in the Obstetrics, Gynecology and Ultrasound area. She activates as lecturer in postgraduate courses of Fetal Medicine, Ultrasound, Colposcopy since 2010. Liana Ples serves on a regular basis as an expert for the Bucharest College of Physicians Disciplinary Committee.

Country: Romania

Field: Obstetrics; Fetal Medicine, Gynecology

Languages: English; French

Prof Dominic Iliescu (Romania)

Dominic Iliescu is an Associate Professor in Obstetrics and Gynecology in Craiova, Romania and member of the Executive Board of The Romanian Society of Obstetrics.

He is well-known nationally and internationally for his research work, with several publications in the UOG Journal, regarding early prenatal diagnosis, intrapartum ultrasound and cardio-vascular anomalies. He won numerous prizes and distinctions, some awarded by ISUOG Society.

Dominic is an active member of the Romanian Society of Ultrasound in Obstetrics and Gynecology and had an important contribution for the ISUOG Guidelines translation into Romanian language and their implementation as national guidelines. He is the Head of the 2nd Clinic of Obstetrics and Gynecology of the University County Hospital from Craiova, and his hospital and university appointments include: member of the Faculty and Hospital Council, Ultrasound in Ob-Gyn Fellowship Director, University Research Committee, Hospital Medicine Committee, National Commission for Medical Residency.

Dominic Iliescu was educated at the University of Medicine and Pharmacy and University County Hospital Craiova. As part of his postgraduate training, he spent training stages in Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge and Alexandra Hospital in Athens and attended prenatal ultrasound courses held by prestigious international societies in London, Chicago, Cambridge and Istanbul, among others. In turn, he was invited as speaker and chairman at numerous scientific manifestations, both national and abroad, such as “Ian Donald” Course - Inter-University School of Medical Ultrasound, EUROSON - The Congress of European Federation of Societies for Ultrasound in Medicine and Biology, Congress of Hellenic Society for Ultrasound in Medicine and Biology, International Fetal Neurology Conference, Fetus As a Patient Congress.

Dominic enjoys teaching and takes responsibilities to educate junior doctors. He is leading foreign medical students' courses at the University of Medicine and Pharmacy from Craiova, directing research grants and international clinical studies, and running regularly research meetings with fellows, PhD candidates and residents for research in his Ob-Gyn fields of expertise: Ultrasound in Obstetrics and Gynecology, Maternal-fetal Medicine and Cervical Pathology.

