

Saturday 6th July
08:30-09:00	Registration opens
09:00-09:10	Welcome and Introduction
09:10-09:40	Basic pelvic floor anatomy – what you need to know and what does transperineal ultrasound allow you to see	A. Steensma
09:40-10:10	Transperineal ultrasound in labor and peripartum	A. Youssef
10:10-10:40	The use of transperineal ultrasound in the evaluation of Obstetric anal sphincter injury (OASI)	V. Eisenberg
10:40-11:00	Refreshment Break
11:00-11:30	Levator trauma in pregnancy and labor – when does it occur, significance and how to diagnose it with 3D	A. Youssef
11:30-12:00	Can we predict or prevent pelvic floor trauma - Levator injury and OASI?	V. Eisenberg
12:00-12:30	What the urogynecologists/urologists needs to know? the anterior compartment	V. Eisenberg
12:30-13:45	Lunch
13:45-14:15	What the urogynecologists/gastroenterologist/colorectal surgeon needs to know? the posterior compartment	A. Steensma
14:15-14:45	The role of ultrasound in choosing surgery, creating collaboration with the gastroenterologists, urologist, and colorectal surgeons	A. Steensma
14:45-15:15	Post-operative audit Slings and meshes	A. Steensma
15:15-15:35	Refreshment Break
15:35-16:05	Pelvic floor function in the obstetric patient	A. Youssef
16:05-16:35	Pelvic floor physiotherapy and visual biofeedback using ultrasound	V. Eisenberg
16:35-17:05	3D/4D ultrasound analysis with the help of an expert operator	V. Eisenberg
17:05-17:35	Discussion and conclusion of the course	V. Eisenberg

Please note that this is a provisional schedule which may change.